Evesham Accountancy Firm Offers Free Services to Start up Businesses

The Accountancy Office Ltd (<http://accountancy-office.co.uk>), is launching a free accounting package this week for start up businesses across the Worcestershire region. Designed to support new entrepreneurs with their accounting needs, the package is set to give small businesses a head start in the current economic climate.

From its base in Evesham, The Accountancy Office provides a flexible accountancy service to small and medium sized businesses. Under this new scheme, start up businesses will benefit from three months free financial advice in their first year of trading.

With over 12 years experience in the accounting profession, company director, Sarah Sallis, knows how important it is for small businesses to access affordable, professional advice in the early stage of setting up in business. By signing up for this exclusive 12 month package, local companies can save £120, as well as receive ongoing support with tax returns, bookkeeping and annual accounts.

As Sarah Sallis explains, 'Many start up businesses delay appointing an accountant, as they perceive costs are too high. With this package, businesses can now benefit from three months free accountancy support. This will not only help them with their cash flow but also give them invaluable start up advice.'

The start up package costs less than £10 a week and includes free meetings, a monthly newsletter and money-back guarantee. Clients also have access to a 'Question and Answer' helpdesk facility on the firm's website, allowing any new business to seek advice for free.

Sarah Sallis says, 'As a modern, friendly practice, we enjoy helping out new businesses and use the latest technology to support clients. By offering services free of charge, it lessens the financial burden on start ups.'
